Eyemart Express eye exam overviewA routine ophthalmological exam involves the measurement of diopters and examination under a biomicroscope. In the case of small children, there is the possibility of measuring dioptres from the age of 6 months, with a special device. In adults, during a routine ophthalmology consultation, a computerized keratorefractometry will be performed, a biomicroscopic examination of the anterior and optical correction (glasses, lenses) will be prescribed if necessary. Depending on the age, other investigations and measurements must be carried out. A complete eye exam is recommended around the age of 40, then at an interval of 2 years, and after 60 years there is an increased risk of age-related macular degeneration, cataracts, and other diseases, which is why periodic check-ups are important. Important things to consider Considering that all Eyemart Express locations have an independent optometrist, you should look at what reviews the doctor has because the opinions will vary. Keep in mind that, as per law, you are not obliged to fill your prescription at the location of your eye exam. This means that you can buy your eyeglasses online through discounted eyeglass retailers like Zenni Optical or other retailers like Walmart or Costco, for instance. Eyemart Express offers more than two thousand frames from brands like Michael Kors, Burberry, Dolce & Gabbana, Versace, Nike, Ray-Ban, Disney, and Coach, which you can choose from. Their family of brands includes Eyewear Express, Vision 4 Less, and Visionmart Express come with a free one-year frame warranty, offering families with kids extra value. We all know that it can be challenging for children to keep glasses in the best condition when they are worn every day. In order to keep your glasses in tip-top shape, you should clean them properly with warm water, mild soap, and lens cleaner. Tips for saving money Before making an appointment at Eyemart Express, make sure you look in the local circular ads and online for any special promotions and/or coupons the company has to offer. For instance, at the time this article was written, they offered a limited-time $39.95 ($2.7 hours of labor required at $15/hour) eye exam at some of their locations. Also, you can join their free official e-mail program to receive coupons in the future. Eyemart Express offers a 20% discount on everything from lenses to frames and accessories if you are a military member, teacher, veteran, first responder, or health care worker. Preparation before your visit is simple and only involves a few steps: Make a note of the symptoms you are experiencing, if any, and disclose them to your optometrists or ophthalmologists before the exam. Know your medical or family's medical history. Bring your latest vision prescription, glasses, and lenses to the appointment. Inform your provider of the medications you take, including non-prescription medicine. What Happens During An Eye Appointment? Eye exams include various tests depending on your reason for scheduling. The tests determine whether you need glasses or lenses, check for general eye problems, or assess your overall health. During a routine eye vision exam for a simple prescription update, there is usually a health evaluation focusing on each eye, checking muscles, blood vessels, dilation response, and synchronization with the other eye. In addition, a few standard tests may also be included in a routine optical exam, including: Visual acuity: The well-known vision test (a Snellen Test) has big lettering near the top and small le through a device called the phoropter or refractor and focusing each eye on an eye chart. Visual refraction tests are done to figure out the prescription and detect blind spots. It entails identifying moving objects from the corner of your eyes while you focus on an object straight ahead. An eye appointment can include other tests that examine specific issues with the eyes. However, if it is a routine visit, your provider will quickly review the results with you, and you'll leave the appointment in no time with a new prescription in hand. Eyemart Express eye exam overviewA routine ophthalmological exam involves the measurement of diopters and examination under a biomicroscope. In the case of small children, there is the possibility of measuring dioptres from the age of 6 months, with a special device. In adults, during a routine ophthalmology consultation, a computerized keratorefractometry will be performed, a biomicroscopic examination of the anterior and posterior pole, and optical correction (glasses, lenses) will be prescribed if necessary. Depending on the age, other investigations and measurements must be carried out. A complete eye exam is recommended around the age of 40, then at an interval of 2 years, and after 60 years, the presbyopia begins to appear, and the risk of glaucoma increases, and after 60 years there is an increased risk of age-related macular degeneration, cataracts, and other diseases, which is why periodic check-ups are important. Important things to consider considering that all Eyemart Express locations have an independent optometrist, you should look at what reviews the doctor has because the opinions will vary. Keep in mind that, as per law, you are not obliged to fill your prescription at the location of your eye exam. This means that you can buy your eyeglasses online through discounted eyeglass retailers like Zenni Optical or other retailers like Walmart or Costco, for instance Eyemart Express offers more than two thousand frames from brands like Michael Kors, Burberry, Dolce & Gabbana, Versace, Nike, Ray-Ban, Disney, and Coach, which you can choose from. Their family of brands include My Little Pony, Jonas Paul, and Paw Patrol. All the frames bought from Eyemart Express come with a free one-year frame warranty, offering families with kids extra value. We all know that it can be challenging for children to keep glasses in the best condition when they are worn every day. In order to keep your glasses in tip-top shape, you should clean them properly with warm water, mild soap, and lens cleaner. Tips for saving money Before making an appointment at Eyemart Express, make sure you look in the local circular ads and online for any special promotions and/or coupons the company has to offer. For instance, at the time this article was written, they offered a limited-time $39.95 ($2.7 hours of labor required at $15/hour) eye exam at some of their locations. Also, you can join their free official e-mail program to receive coupons in the future. Eyemart Express offers a 20% discount on everything from lenses to frames and accessories if you are a military member, teacher, veteran, first responder, or health care worker.
