Our purpose & philosophy is to create an environment full of learning experiences that meet your child's needs. 3204Bldg 3: 830-627-9831Address:1365 West County Line RoadNew Braunfels, TX 78130About: Blue Birds Kids Academy is a locally owned and operated licensed child care center that's dedicated to providing a nurturing and educational environment for children ages 6 weeks to 11 years old. Our friendly teachers have 15+ years combined experience in education. We strive to create meaningful and trusting relationships between children, families, staff and the community. At Blue Bird Kids' Academy our professionally trained staff to grow in. At Blue Bird Kids Academy, we use a variety of age-appropriate lesson planning tools. Each staff member spends time putting together a weekly plan that challenges each age group on creative arts, music, literature, problem-solving, drama, natural world, science, and physical development. Your pride and joy is our number 1 priority! My husband and I are the parents to three children in 3rd, 6th and 9th Grade at NBCA. We feel blessed to be apart of a school that not only strives for academic excellence, but also to develop the character of the student body. Just as the first part of the school's Mission Statement communicates, "The mission of New Braunfels Christian Academy is to glorify God by partnering with parents within a Christ-centered community", we truly feel like educating our children is a partnership. There is open community within the school is community. and service. There have been many events that have taken place lately that have shown this to be true. Our Board President recently wrote a letter to the NBCA Family, when you read something like this, you imagine a first place win or some other academic accomplishment. But the two things he was speaking of were reflections of the character of our school. One was mention of a Hype Squad, which is basically a group of high school boys cheering their hearts out for our school volleyball team. It is quite a site to behold! The second thing he mentions is our high school football team. They are having a tough year with few players, lack of experience, and several injuries. But despite these factors, they have not given up fighting the good fight! I don't know if it is because our son is involved in both of these groups, but I feel my heart over flow with thankfulness to belong to a school that recognizes and values this type of character. I encourage you to become a Wildcat. Posted by Parent - michr JavaScript is disabled in your browser. Please enable JavaScript to proceed. Learning has always had its challenges, but school nowadays has become something that we want to do. Academics is one thing, and Spyrja Academy has you covered there. Belonging is another. At Spyrja Academy, your child will not only get high quality instruction but will also get the opportunity to learn what it means to be a part of something greater than him or herself. Spyrja is devoted to the betterment of New Braunfels, Canyon Lake, San Marcos, and surrounding communities. Each Friday, Spyrja students will contribute to their communities through organized events.
