Academy of saint paul

51 Finchale Road, London SE2 9PX "Absolutely dreadful school my grandson just started a week ago he was assaulted by 3 older children from the school this morning I called the police .unbelievable that the head of the school didn't check the n my grandson .when the police arrived she was looking from the reception window and still didn't come and talk to me or the police disgusting and I'm her speech has the audacity to talk about anti bullying. Mr Donahue spoke to me and will follow up on the investigation. My grandson will not be going back to that school do not send your children there . " "My brother attends this place and EVERY SINGLE DAY he come back LATE. Then when I ask him he says 'I got in a two hour detention'. Also the amount of GUM under those tables! Hygiene! This school better change!!" "I have regretted sending my son to this school they are soo unresponsive.when incidents happens they do nothing about it. Been trying to speak one of the form tutors with an incident that happened to my son at school however it has been 2 months and no one has gotten back to me or even spoken to my son about what happened they just brushed it off the carpet. Looking for a new school for my child Please don't send your child to this school they do not care about the children and their wellbeing." "This school is decent. Half is bad half is good. The food can be horrible, but ocasionally it is good. The teachers can be strict however some are nice. Other than the higher-ups teachers can be helpful. It is the best school in the borough(Greenwich) but if you can afford a private school definitely choose that instead.(Updated) the GCSE curriculum is good at this school but some teachers can be questionable and the catering company needs to be changed soon." "They give long detentions for little things. They literally want respect but don't give respect. They don't deal with anything outside school correctly, pretty poor school to be honest . No privacy at all I could say a lot more things but I'm not bothered" School Private School Sport & School & Kindergarten On behalf of the staff, students and governors I am delighted to welcome you to St. Paul's Academy. Our website will introduce you to the key elements of the education our school can offer to your child. St. Paul's Academy can be characterised by the welcome it offers all and the inclusive approach we take to our students. Care and compassion are central to the way we treat one another, and we pride ourselves on how the attention to students' welfare runs through all aspects of the Academy. We have high expectations that our young people can achieve the very best, and our curriculum is designed to ensure it meets the varying needs of all our students.St Paul's is a school community where young people can thrive. We are ambitious and we demand excellence in academic study and behaviour but we also provide the love, care and attention your children will need to be successful and happy. Our expertise and experience in pastoral inclusion work ensures that our young people, in spite of any challenges, are able to find St Paul's a place that helps them achieve and be proud of themselves. We welcome families of Catholic and other Christian denominations, other faith traditions and any family who seeks, and can support, our ethos.Page 2On behalf of the staff, students and governors I am delighted to welcome you to St. Paul's Academy. We welcome families of Catholic and other Christian denominations, other faith traditions and any family who seeks, and can support, our ethos. There are three key elements to creating an outstanding school culture-ambition, achievements and creating an abundance for young people day to day. Ambition: The educational journey at St Paul's allows for students to explore the depth and breadth of their vocational and GCSE courses and to prepare them for the world of work and future study. We provide a curriculum that also provides a rich, varied and broad experience through Key Stage Three so that we can cultivate young people who are widely read, resilient learners and culturally rich people. Our personal development curriculum underpins all that we do to support the formation of our young people to take their place in the world as justice makers and ambassadors for truth. The daily experience of faith and prayer provides our community with a 'centre' to return to as its source of strength and solace. Achievement: We pride ourselves on striving for academic rigour each day in every lesson. We expect excellence from our young people in terms of their behaviour for learning and excellence from teachers and leaders in delivering high quality, engaging learning. Creating inquisitive learners who are able to discuss, to debate and to problem solve are key to success so we give these time in our planned curriculum. Abundance: St Paul's is a place of an abundance of opportunities to develop gifts, support talent, engage with new experiences and to see the wonders of our world. Enrichment clubs, trips and sporting opportunities are at the heart of St Paul's. We shape and equip our students to navigate the challenges and opportunities of a modern and changing world. The development of the whole person is at the centre of the daily mission and purpose of St Paul's Academy. Since joining the Academy as Principal in January 2023 there have been changes to the curriculum offered at KS3 and KS4 to support mastery of learning and outcomes, reshaping of the school day to support an enriched experience at lunch and renewed leadership set to take the Academy onto the next stage of its exciting and ambitious journey.
