Link to this page; But above all harvest as early as possible, if you would escape frosts and have a fair and salable crop; you may save much loss by this means. Shortly afterwards, at the harvest festival, the owner released the Ox from his yoke, but bound the Heifer with cords and led him away to the altar to be slain in honor of the occasion. Having satisfied his mind on that point, he stuck his boat-hook into the beast's back to harvest his good fortune. When my lord's crop was nearly ready for the harvest, so also was ours; when his bell rang to call us to his fields to harvest his crop for nothing, he would not allow that I and my two of them; so, for the lacking one were we daily fined. Shiv, who poured the harvest and made the winds to blow, Sitting at the doorways of a day of long ago, Gave to each his portion, food and toil and fate, From the King upon the guddee to the Beggar at the gate. As Adam was going homeward, on Wednesday evening, in the six o'clock sunlight, he saw in the distance the last load of barley winding its way towards the yard-gate of the Hall Farm, and heard the chant of "Harvest Home!" rising and sinking like a wave. Success gave him nerve and even actual intrepidity; insomuch, indeed, that after he had conveyed his harvest to his mother in a back alley, he went to the reception himself, and added several of the valuables of that house to his takings. They have here two harvests in the year, which is a sufficient recompense for the small produce of each; one harvest they have here two harvests in the year, which is a sufficient recompense for the small produce of each; one harvest they have in the winter, which lasts through the months of July, August, and September, the other in the spring; their trees are always green, and it is the fault of the inhabitants that they produce so little fruit, the soil being well adapted to all sorts, especially those that come from the Indies. The hard-worked, fever-stricken missionaries stuck doggedly to their trees are always green, and it is the fault of the inhabitants that they produce so little fruit, the soil being well adapted to all sorts, especially those that come from the Indies. Pentecostal fire that would bring a glorious harvest of souls. Every new regulation concerning commerce or revenue, or in any way affecting the value of the different species of property, presents a new harvest to those who watch the change, and can trace its consequences; a harvest, reared not by themselves, but by the toils and cares of the great body of their fellow-citizens. It seemed too strange for words to see others harvest the wheat and to know that the usual crop could not be put in. However, as harvest was done. God showed up in a spectacular way, as He always does, pouring out His Spirit in a tangible, powerful manner. We experienced epic worship moments throughout the evening, especially when 45,000 voices sang "The Blessing" with Kari... pic.twitter.com/UTujj8aBxL — Greg Laurie (@greglaurie) July 20, 2025 After 35 years of Harvest Crusades, one thing remains true—God is still powerfully at work through the life-changing message of the gospel. And this year was no exception. Thanks to your prayers, support, and partnership, this year's Harvest Crusade filled too. This one-night event saw over 45,000 in person attendance—with another 200,000 watching the livestream. Most incredibly, we witnessed 6,500 individuals make professions of faith in Jesus Christ! One Gospel. One Stadium, unforgettable moments: a packed stadium, unforgettable moments: a packed stadium, unforgettable worship, and a clear message of hope. Leading the charge in worship were artists Chris Tomlin, Kari Jobe Carnes, Brooke Ligertwood, and We The Kingdom, who filled the stadium with praise and opened hearts for the message. The crowds poured in—so much so that the fire marshal had to close the gates of the venue. After Pastor Greg gave the invitation to accept Christ, so many people walked down onto the field that it reached maximum capacity, and once again the fire marshal had to intervene. Pastor Greg gave instructions during the altar call to those still waiting in the aisles: "I respect the fire marshal," he said. "They're just doing their job. But the good news is you don't have to be on the field to accept Christ. You can do it wherever you are." A Message for This Moment Pastor Greg Laurie brought a powerful, timely message, calling people to turn from sin and trust in Jesus. "It doesn't matter if you're young or old, or if you're rich or you're poor," he told those in attendance. "Your life feels like one long scroll, and no matter how far you swipe, you're still empty inside. What you're looking for isn't found on a screen or an AI voice. It's found in a living God who has a plan and a purpose for your life tonight." With heartfelt clarity and urgency, he invited thousands to step onto the field and into the family of God. And they came. From young people to families, longtime seekers to first-time attendees, the response was overwhelming. Each story represents a soul rescued, a life transformed, and a future rewritten by God's grace. To God be the glory! Next Stop: The 3rd Annual Jesus Revolution Baptism The story doesn't end here. It continues on the shores of Pirate's Cove—site of the Jesus Movement baptisms and the filming location for Jesus Revolution. On Saturday, August 16, we're gathering again for the 3rd Annual Jesus Revolution Baptism, where thousands are expected to take their next step of faith. It's All Because of You None of this happens without the generous support of our donors, particularly our Harvest Partners. Thanks to these partners, this year's Harvest Crusade will live on, continuing to reach people on television, radio, and the Harvest App. Consider partnering with Harvest Ministries today. Your sustaining gifts will help us reach even more people with the hope of Christ through future Harvest Crusades, global evangelistic outreach, online discipleship, and more. Let's keep graying. Let's keep graying. Let's keep graying. And let's work together towards a spiritual awakening for our generation. — Help keep Harvest Crusades free!
