[Solved, mouse was faulty] Mouse stopped working all of a sudden. Hello!So, today, I bought a new keyboard + mouse, the CoolerMaster Masterkeys Lite L Combo, I tested it with Minecraft and LibreOffice and everything woked fine. Then I ate dinner and when I came back the mouse wasn't working. I tried every single USB port that my PC has, but nothing changed. It just didn't want to work.The thing is, even the system doesn't recognise it anymore, it doesn't even realise that I plugged a USB device in. What could be the issue here? Is there something I can do to fix it? Any help is appreciated. Game in style with the Cooler Master Devastator 3 RGB Gaming Keyboard & Mouse Combo. This keyboard and mouse combination are designed with the gamer in mind, featuring 7-color LED light effects and a mouse with the ability to alter its pointer precision with four different DPI settings. The 7-color LED lighting is built into both the keyboard and mouse. They backlight the keys, mouse wheel, and two front mouse vents. The colors are easily adjustable with the press of a function key, and can be set to remain steady, or pulsate at varying speeds. The speed of the lights can be adjusted with a function key combination as well. Ergonomic & Durable To help increase comfort during long gaming sessions, the keyboard and mouse were both designed with an ergonomic, low profile. The mouse also features a large, easy-to-use, illuminated wheel. Designs to increase stability and minimize wear and tear include rubber side grips on the mouse, rubber pads on the underside of the keyboard, and laser-etched, grip-coated keyboard keycaps Precision Mouse The mouse has multiple features to help with accuracy during gameplay. First, it has four selectable DPI settings to choose from (800, 1200, 1600, and 2800). It also has Omron switches that are good for 10 million keypresses, and an Avago optical sensor.
